DWR Flood Officials Will Speak At Military Engineers Conference

SACRAMENTO - Department of Water Resources (DWR) flood officials will speak at a July 24-26 conference in Sacramento of the Society of American Military Engineers (SAME).

Les Harder, DWR Deputy Director for Public Safety, on Wednesday, July 25, will moderate a panel on the topic: "Habitat/Vegetation vs. Flood Control: A Need for Interagency Collaborative Effort." That panel is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

Gary Bardini, Chief, Hydrology and Flood Operations, Division of Flood Management, DWR, will moderate a panel discussion entitled "Building in Flood Plains." That panel discussion also is scheduled for July 25, starting at 3:30 p.m.

Entitled "Still Battling the Inland Sea: Exploring Solutions for California's Complex Water Issues," the conference is headquartered at the Holiday Inn Hotel, Sacramento Capitol Plaza.

The conference keynote speaker, at 8:15 a.m. on July 25 is Lt. Gen. R. L. Van Antwerp, Chief of Engineers. U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. His topic is: "Programs in Support of Our Flood Control Systems."

During morning sessions on July 26, starting at 8 a.m., Harder will describe DWR's response to the June 2004 levee failure at Jones Tract in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, and University of California at Berkeley Engineering Professor Raymond Seed will evaluate seismic activity in the Delta.
